COMMERCIAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR PARTICIPANTS
ILLUSTRATIVE GUIDANCE FOR NON-OLYMPIC PARTNERS

Olympic Winter Games
Beijing 2022
INTRODUCTION

In June 2019, the IOC updated Rule 40 of the Olympic Charter and subsequently established a set of Key Principles. These Key Principles set out how athletes competing at the Olympic Winter Games Beijing 2022 (Beijing Games) can engage in, and benefit from, commercial activities around the Olympic Winter Games.

By following this framework, responsible brands and the athletes which they sponsor are helping the Olympic Movement maintain the solidarity funding models that ensure that all 206 Olympic teams from every nation can continue to be funded to compete at the Olympic Winter Games – regardless of the availability of personal sponsorship, or the level of team funding, in their country.

The IOC is committed to ensure that the whole world can experience the athletes’ performances, in particular by arranging broadcast of the Olympic Winter Games on a truly global basis. In this way, we hope to raise the profile of all athletes, and so help them to attract personal sponsors. The IOC also supports athletes to engage personal sponsors, by providing advice through the Athlete365 platform.

The illustrative guidance in this document supplements, and should be read in conjunction with, the Key Principles of athlete advertising. These are explained in the IOC’s February 2021 Commercial Opportunities document. The Key Principles prevail in case of any ambiguity. Capitalised words in this document have the same meanings as in the Key Principles. Companies using Paralympic athletes in their campaigns should consult the IPC’s Athlete Sponsorship and Advertising Guidelines for the Beijing 2022 Paralympic Games.

This document is relevant for all advertising activity which covers more than one country. Advertising targeting at one territory is subject to the rules of that country’s National Olympic Committee and/or relevant organising committee for the Olympic Winter Games (OCOG) in the host countries, which may be different to the Key Principles. Athletes and their sponsors should check with the relevant NOC. If you require contact details for an NOC, please ask us at rule40@olympic.org.

The present document also accompanies the activation of the IOC’s Athlete Advertising Notification Portal for non-Olympic sponsors using athletes in multinational campaigns during the period of the Beijing Games. The Athlete Advertising Notification Portal has been developed as a simple, one-stop-shop notification platform for brands. The notification portal is available at rule40.olympic.org.

Thank you for reviewing and following the Key Principles of athlete advertising.
GENERIC ADVERTISING

The concept of ‘Generic Advertising’ is an important one for athlete personal sponsors who are not also Olympic Partners. These Non-Olympic Partners can continue to run Generic Advertising during the Games Period (27 January 2022 to 22 February 2022 inclusive) if:

- they have the permission from the relevant athlete(s),
- no Olympic Properties are used in the advertising, and
- it respects the policies of the IOC relating to activities incompatible with the values of the Olympic Movement, and those of the athlete’s NOC.

Generic Advertising is defined in the Key Principles as advertising which meets all of the following three criteria:

1. the only connection between, on the one hand, the Beijing Games, the IOC, the Beijing 2022 Organising Committee, an NOC or an NOC’s Olympic team and, on the other hand, the relevant advertising activity, is the fact that the advertising uses a Participant’s Image,
2. the advertising must have been in the market for at least 90 days prior to the Games Period (i.e. before 29 October 2021), and
3. the advertising must have run consistently and not be materially escalated during the Games Period.

Criteria 2 and 3 will be applied flexibly, where possible, to support athletes competing in other competitions and to enable ‘business-as-usual’ campaigns.

Notified advertising will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, but the following examples illustrate some advertising methods which would, and would not, be regarded as Generic Advertising.
Despite the campaign being in market for over 90 days, and no Olympic Properties being used, a connection with the Olympic Winter Games is made using the ‘Road to Beijing’ reference.

- No connection with the Olympic Winter Games other than use of an Olympian
- The brand has demonstrated that the campaign has been in market before 29 October 2021
- The athlete’s Olympic achievements are listed factually and not more prominently that her other achievements
- No Olympic Properties are used
Despite the campaign being in market for over 90 days, Olympic Properties (‘Beijing 2022’) are used and make a connection with the Olympic Winter Games.

Despite the campaign being in market for over 90 days, Olympic Properties are used on the athlete’s official Olympic team apparel, and the use of the official Olympic apparel creates a connection with the Olympic Winter Games.
Use of iconic Chinese imagery means that there is a connection to the Olympic Winter Games beyond simply use of an Olympian. Therefore the campaign does not meet the first criteria of Generic Advertising.
Despite not using any Olympic Properties or creating any connection with the Olympic Winter Games beyond use of an Olympian, the sponsor was not able to show that the advert has been in market for more than 90 days, so cannot be considered as Generic Advertising.

The Athlete Advertising Notification Portal includes a section for sponsors to provide details of 'in-market' campaigns. Note also that if an advert significantly increases in distribution or frequency during the Games Period, this would also cause it to be regarded as non-generic.
KEY PRINCIPLES

Where sponsors can show that a campaign reflects ‘business-as-usual’ as part of the notification, it may be exempt from the 90-day ‘in-market’ period requirement.

For example, this may be relevant for ‘holiday season’ campaigns that start or escalate in November.

Please ensure that appropriate details are provided in your notification.

Note that a ‘business-as-usual’ advert should not contain Olympic Properties or otherwise create a connection with the Olympic Winter Games, other than by using the athlete (see examples 1 to 6).

EXAMPLE 7

‘BUSINESS-AS-USUAL’ CAMPAIGNS

This campaign was launched during the Games Period, and so does not meet the 90-day ‘in-market’ requirement. However, the sponsor provided information on the online notification platform that show that it usually runs similar campaigns at the same time in non-Games years as well.
EXAMPLE 8

FLEXIBILITY FOR ATHLETES PARTICIPATING IN OTHER COMPETITIONS

To provide flexibility for athletes participating in other sports competitions shortly before or after the Games Period, exceptions to the 90-day ‘in market’ requirement are available. Please ensure that supporting information is provided in the online notification.

Note that the advert cannot contain Olympic Properties and must still respect the requirement not to create any connection with the Games other than by use of the athlete (see examples 1 to 6 for guidance of this element).

EXAMPLE 9

NO SUGGESTION OF PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT

Even if this advert has been in market for more than 90 days before the Games Period, and does not use Olympic Properties or create a connection with the Games (other than using an athlete), it implies performance enhancement by the sponsor’s product or service, so cannot be considered as acceptable Generic Advertising.

KEY PRINCIPLES

Advertising must not include statements, or imply, that a product or service enhanced the athlete's performance.
EXAMPLE 10
CONGRATULATORY ADVERTISING BY NON-OLYMPIC PARTNERS

This congratulatory ad from a Non-Olympic Partner is posted after the Games Period, and does not use any Olympic imagery or Olympic Properties. A similar message of support posted before the Games Period is also possible.

These congratulatory/support ads are posted in the Games Period and use Olympic Imagery and Olympic Properties. Therefore they are not in line with the Key Principles.

KEY PRINCIPLES
Non-Olympic Partners cannot publish Congratulatory Advertising during the Games Period. This also covers other messages of support and commiseration towards athletes competing at the Olympic Winter Games.

Note that these kinds of messages can be posted by sponsors before and after the Games Period, without using Olympic Properties or creating any connection with the Olympic Winter Games.
ATHLETE THANK-YOU MESSAGES

EXAMPLE 11

The accompanying image uses Olympic Properties, official Olympic kit and an Olympic medal.

Athlete Name @athletename Feb. 9th 2022

Thank you X Brand for being with me for all those years!

The online message must:
- not include any Olympic Properties or any images or videos from Olympic venues or Olympic medal ceremonies, or feature official Olympic team uniform, or any Olympic medal,
- not include any statement or imply that a product or service enhanced the Participant’s performance,
- not include a personal endorsement of the relevant product or service,
- not be linked to any activities incompatible with the values of the Olympic Movement (e.g. alcohol, gambling, etc.), and
- not make a connection with the Olympic Winter Games, the IOC, the Olympic Movement, the OCOG, the NOC or the National Olympic Team.

Thank-you messages to Olympic Partners should not be combined with messages to Non-Olympic Partners.

KEY PRINCIPLES

Thank-you messages to personal Non-Olympic Partners are limited to one per personal Non-Olympic Partner.

Participants may repost or share content from the IOC’s, the Beijing 2022 OCOG’s, their national Olympic Team’s or their NOC’s social media accounts.

However, such reposts or sharing must not include messages of thanks, or otherwise refer, to Non-Olympic Partners.

A single thank-you message to each personal non-Olympic Partner during the Games Period can be posted to multiple platforms (posting a single identical message to multiple platforms must take place at the same time).
